Cocaine bust

One arrest, more expected in Diamondhead bust

BY AMY PICKICH

Timothy M. Thompson, 34, of Diamondhead was arrested Wednesday after a search of his home revealed a stash of cocaine and marijuana, according to Hancock County Narcotics Task Force director Dave Stepro.

Stepro said the search revealed more than a quarter pound of cocaine, some of which was pre-wrapped and packaged for sale, with a street value estimated at close to $10,000.

The task force also discovered several small bags of marijuana, according to Stepro. Thompson was subsequently charged with the sale of a controlled substance and possession of a controlled substance with intent to sell.

Stepro said the arrest was made at Thompson's home, 73640 Diamondhead Drive North, without incident after a search warrant was issued.

Thompson was placed in the Hancock County Justice Facility under a $10,000 bond. His case will be assigned to the Hancock County Justice Court.

Stepro said the case is still under investigation and more arrests and indictments are expected.

Agent Terry Eley of the Narcotics Task Force is in charge of the investigation.

Street closings provide a safe, yet spooky Halloween

BY AMY PICKICH

If you are looking for a safe, yet spooky route to trick-or-treat, the city of Bay St. Louis has special plans for ghouls and goblins, young and old.

Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre said the city will close the 300 and 400 blocks of Demon-tluzin Avenue, the 200 and 400 blocks of Main Street and the entire Spanish Acres subdivision around 4:30 p.m. Sunday to provide safety for spookers.

"The biggest event will be put on by the Hancock County Historical Society in the cemetery," Favre said.

Society members will portray deceased inhabitants of Cedar Rest Cemetery on Second Street. The production will begin at 5 p.m. today.

Favre also recommended trick-or-treating at Norma Stiglet's house on the 400 block of Main Street.

"They always put on a big to-do," Favre said.

Some area businesses throughout Hancock County got into the spirit of Halloween early by costuming and distributing candy to trick-or-treaters on Friday.

HISTORY

Halloween was not always a holiday involving candy and trick-or-treating. Originally, it was a Celtic festival for the dead, which was celebrated on the last day of the Celtic year, October 31.

Elements of that holiday were incorporated into the Christian holiday of All Hallows' Eve, the eve of All Saint's Day.

In some parts of Europe, it was believed that on this night witches and warlocks flew around. Huge bonfires were built to scare away these evil spirits.

In the 19th century, witches' tricks were replaced with children's pranks and Halloween customs evolved from the Celtic festivals.

Bay PD seeks rape suspect

BY JANET MCQUEEN

The Bay St. Louis Police Department is seeking a suspect in two recent rapes in the city.

According to Chief Frank McNeil, the same person is sought in both incidents. One occurred at Bay Pointe Apartments, Hwy. 90, on October 3, and the other on Carroll Avenue on October 21. Both crimes occurred between 4:30 and 5 a.m.

The suspect, described as a black male of medium build between 5'8" and 5'10", gained entry through an open window in one incident and a sliding glass door in the other.

The victims were threatened, according to McNeil, but no weapon was seen.

"I would recommend that citizens take normal precautions to secure their premises," he said, "to cut down on the opportunity for anyone to take advantage of the situation of an open door or window."

"With the recent mild weather, I would suggest if you plan to leave windows open, to keep screens locked."

"When you see something strange in your neighborhood, please call us...If you hear noises or an unusual person or car, dial 911. We'll be there within three minutes."

The department is currently following leads in the case, which is being investigated under the direction of Detective Tom Burleson, assisted by Detective Kurt Raymond.

'Buz' Olsen charged with embezzlement

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

Former Hancock County Port & Commission executive director Harold 'Buz' Olsen was arrested at 2:30 p.m. Friday and charged with embezzlement, Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson said.

Olsen submitted his resignation from the post he held since 1987 to the Hancock County Port & Harbor Commissioners last Friday, stating 'personal reasons.'

Peterson said, "Charges are based on Olsen's alleged use of a Port & Harbor credit card in the sum of $2,910 over a two-month period for his personal use."

The arrest followed an investigation by the State Auditor,

District Attorney and Hancock County Sheriff's Office following Olsen's resignation.

Port & Harbor Commission records indicate that the Commission accepted restitution and Olsen's resignation last week, Peterson stated.

Peterson stated Friday Olsen had turned himself in and no preliminary hearing date had been set. He also said Olsen had retained attorney Albert Necaize to represent him.

Further investigation into the matter will continue by the three agencies involved in the investigation, Peterson said.

Olsen was released on a $3,000 bond.

County earns "A" rating

BY AMY PICKICH

A bond refinancing issue that could save the county some $90,000 will come before Hancock supervisors Monday.

If the board decides to refinance a $1.4 million resale bond and a $1.2 million multi-purpose bond sold in 1989, the county will save $90,415 over eight years and take advantage of lower interest rates, according to board attorney Gerald Gex.

Municipal bond attorney Lucien Bourgeois, who will appear before the board Monday on the refinancing issue, said the county said has received an "A" rating on bonds from Moody's Investment Services in New York.

Gex said the county received a B-AA-1 rating the first time they applied.

Bourgeois said the upgraded

Bourgeois said the upgraded credit rating also means that Hancock County bonds are a better risk to investors.

"The county's credit is now more secure than it was before," Bourgeois said.

Parking expansion plans

P&Z to discuss zoning for proposed casino parking lot

BY AMY PICKICH

The Bay St. Louis planning and zoning commission has scheduled a workshop for Nov. 1 at 7:30 p.m. at the City Hall Annex to continue debate over Casino Magic's plans to expand parking.

According to commission chairman Les Fillingame, a motion for zoning variance for a parking lot south of Felicity Street and West of Engman Avenue was tabled on Oct. 19 until a full-development plan is presented.

Fillingame said the commission requested proposals for plans beyond parking before making a decision on the variance.

The area, owned by Casino Magic, is zoned for single-family residential use.

If approved, Casino Magic plans to build an additional parking lot to hold some 1,250 vehicles on a 10.5-acre tract to coincide with its plans to build a hotel and golf course.

Gene Fennel, project coordinator for Casino Magic, said he will present a master plan to the commission on Monday.

Fennel said area residents' opposition because of traffic concerns are not unwarranted, but "misdirected".

Fennel said residents should contact local police to enforce traffic violators. He said he wants to coordinate a workable plan with officials to help with the increased flow of traffic brought by casinos.

"Our concerns are to minimize the traffic impact on people in the area," Fennel said. "We'll do what we can, but we can't change what's been done."

If approved by the commission at their next regular meeting, the variance still must go before the Bay St. Louis City Council for final approval.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

It may be an hour earlier than you thought this morning, if you failed to turn your clock back one hour. The official time change was 2 a.m. this morning—this is to give more daylight in the morning and less in the evening.

Those of us who work until five or six will now be arriving home after dark.

Myself, I wish they would set the clock one way or the other, and leave it that way.

No matter how the clock is set, there is no way to change the amount of daylight in a day.

I know you could move to another area and change it somewhat, even to total darkness at the North Pole, but who wants to go there?

I am looking forward to the shortest day of the year, the time after which daylight hours will be on the increase once again.

Today is Halloween, so this means there will be a large number of youngsters trick-or-treating.

There will be many things to do in the area, so parents should be busy.

Several area streets will be blocked for the safety of children and adults, too.

A group of Halloween Safety Recommendations I received in a memo from the National Confectioners Association, Chocolate Manufacturers Association recommend:

—Wear light-colored clothing short enough to prevent tripping, and add reflectors.

—Make sure your children can see well enough through face masks.

—Accompany young children.

—Go out in daylight and carry a flashlight in case of delay.

—Stay within the neighborhood and only visit homes you know.

—Watch for traffic.

—Only give or accept wrapped or packaged candy.

—Examine candy before allowing children to eat it.

Parents do not want to forget Hancock Medical Center's Auxiliary and American Legion Auxiliary of Post No. 139's offer this afternoon from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. for free goodies and snacks.

There will be witches goblins, ballerinas and princesses, etc. too at Hancock Medical Center, Drinkwater Road, Bay St. Louis.

I cannot stress the importance of safety, and I am hoping every youngster will have a very good and safe Halloween.

By the way, there are several very well Halloween decorated homes and businesses in the area.

Those who decorate spend a lot of time and money to bring joy (or is it horror on Halloween?) to our residents and we should really thank them for their contributions.

The Hancock Historical Society will also present the Cedar Rest Cemetery Tour tonight.

The cemetery is located on South Second Street next to the Antique Arcade, the old Woodman of the World building.

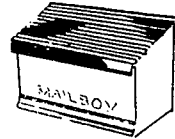

This is said to be a fun program, as portrayals of citizens of the past will be made by Society members.

I realize there are some folks who do not even want to go to a cemetery in the day time, much less at night on Halloween.

The Bay-Waveland Girls Softball Booster Association's Haunted House and Space Walk is also scheduled for tonight.

Admission for the fund raiser is $1.50 adults and $1 for children. The Haunted House is said to be a 'blast.'

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

All residents must purchase state tags

Dear Editor,

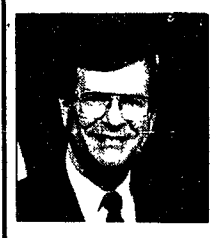

I recently renewed my Mississippi license tag and was not happy at all with what I had to pay, but I paid it.

Upon returning to work I drove through the parking lot looking at car tags on parked vehicles. There were a large number of vehicles with out-of-state tags. Several of these vehicles were driven by Casino employees who have relocated here over a year ago.

Why is it that these people reside here and continue to drive on out-of-state tags? This is not fair to us law-abiding citizens. Our counties are losing large revenues, and the amount is growing.

Sincerely,
Tom Farrell

The gas tax

"Taxation follows public debt, and in its train wretchedness and oppression."

—Thomas Jefferson, 1816

I experienced the first ill effect of the Clinton budget the other day when I filled my car with gas, just as many Americans did. I paid the federal government an additional 4.3 cents per gallon as a result of the new gas tax which took effect Oct. 1.

When will the government stop taxing America, and when will our government learn that it spends too much money and should cut spending instead of passing new tax burdens? Enough is enough. The gas tax is bad for America.

I'll have to admit that those who sold this gas tax to the American people sure mastered the art of smoke and mirrors. I kept hearing them say over and over again that this so-called "modest" 4.3 cents per gallon tax was a small price for us to pay and a tax that every American could and would willingly afford.

What you did not hear was that all Americans were already paying a 14.1-cent per gallon federal gas tax as well as a state tax with a national average of 19.1 cents per gallon. This includes a current 2.5 cents per gallon motor fuel tax which was scheduled to expire next year. This tax has been extended for another four years.

This additional tax will hit Mississippi especially hard. In a rural state where folks depend on their vehicles for far more than just a joy ride, this tax will make travel expensive and less likely.

This tax will also hurt the state's economy. It will strap our farmers, truckers and barge operators — industries that often survive on nickel and dime profit margins.

Before October, Mississippians were already paying 32.5 cents per gallon on gasoline — 18.4 cents per gallon in state taxes and 14.1 cents per gallon in federal taxes. Under the new Clinton gas tax, Mississippians now will pay 36.8 cents per gallon in state and federal taxes. That is a 13.2 percent increase.

Here is the impact of the Clinton gas tax. It is estimated that Americans will pay $32 billion in new and extended federal gas taxes alone over the next five years. An analysis by the Institute for Research on the Effects of Taxation reports that this tax will cost 833 Mississippians their jobs within the next five years.

I have had enough of taxes. Mississippi and this country have been taxed enough. Taxes do not help the economy and this gas tax certainly will not stimulate job growth, economic prosperity or reduce the deficit.

I will keep fighting this tax and higher taxes. And, I will continue to try to get the message out that the problems in Washington are not because of lack of revenue, they are because Congress will not cut spending.

Senator Lott welcomes any questions and/or comments about this column. Please write to: U.S. Senator Trent Lott, 487 Russell Building, Washington, D.C. 20510 (Attention: Press Office).

EYES ON MISSISSIPPI

By Bill Minor

Sovereignty Commission used 'spin doctoring' on stories

Back in the 1960s when the state Sovereignty Commission was in business, we Mississippi journalists had never heard the term "spin-doctor," the now familiar name for political hired hands who peddle doctored versions of politicians' words or actions to reporters.

What we didn't know back then was we had an early day spin-doctor working in our journalistic midst — the Sovereignty Commission director.

Thanks to a piece of correspondence from the Sovereignty Commission files that recently came to my attention, I have learned that one of my own news articles which I wrote in January, 1967 was the subject of spin-doctoring by the commission's director, Erle Johnston Jr.

This was when I was the Mississippi correspondent for the New Orleans Times-Picayune, based in Jackson. At the time, covering the state's civil rights unrest was one of my primary news concerns.

Black citizens in Port Gibson and Claiborne County, led by then-NAACP field secretary Charles Evers, had waged a highly-effective boycott of Port Gibson merchants for almost a year, demanding hiring of blacks in stores and on the police force.

In the T-P edition on the morning of January 27, 1967, under a Port Gibson dateline I had broken the story, with Evers as the source, that black citizens would lift the boycott that day, after having won a list of concessions from local white business and political leadership.

Evers, in the story detailed the terms of the settlement with the white leaders, and related that while the boycott would end, a selective buying campaign would be maintained to monitor compliance with the agreement.

What becomes obvious from the Sovereignty Commission memorandum written by Johnston on Jan. 30, 1967 is that I had blown the cover of the local white officials who had been negotiating with Evers, but who did not want it to appear they had yielded to any of the blacks' demands.

So Johnston, the erstwhile weekly newspaper editor from Forest, went into his Sovereignty Commission mode, setting about to put a different spin on the story so the Port Gibson mayor and merchants wouldn't appear to be backing down and Evers' victory would be minimized.

The Johnston memo shows that he conferred with the Port Gibson mayor and the local newspaper editor and told them he would write a story "from the mayor's point of view" and get it out to the news media.

A copy of what Johnston had written as a news story coming from the Port Gibson mayor was attached to the file memorandum which I recently obtained. Essentially, the spin put on it by Johnston made it appear that the agreed hiring of black police and store employees was nothing more than Evers had been offered when the boycott began.

A state highway patrolman, according to the Johnston memo, took the Johnston version of the story around to the various news agencies in Jackson. And, behind the scenes, a Sovereignty Commission investigator was sent to see Evers and tell him not to make any statement on lifting boycotts in the future unless white officials jointly approved.

Johnston boasted in the memorandum that his version of the story giving the spin from the Port Gibson mayor's contention that Evers had agreed to end the boycott, but with no concessions, was carried the next day by the Associated Press and United Press International.

When the Jackson Daily News and the Clarion-Ledger were a bit slow in getting the story in the paper, Johnston relates that he personally contacted the top news editor at both papers and got them to give it good coverage the next day.

He did the same thing with the state editor at the Memphis Commercial Appeal, with the desired results, the memo says.

While the Sovereignty Commission lives in infamy today because of its spying on citizens in the name of racial segregation, this episode reveals the degree to which the commission extended its tentacles into management of the news. It's downright frightening.

New Social Security Taxation Rules

By Caril V. Stephens
Gulfport SS Manager

You have read about it in the newspapers and heard it on radio and television. Because of a new law, some people will now pay higher income tax on their Social Security benefits.

Other beneficiaries will pay the same rate they did last year, but most people will still not have to pay taxes on their Social Security benefits. Let me explain the details so you will know whether the tax change applies to you.

Generally, it is people in the upper income brackets who must pay taxes on their Social Security benefits. That is, if you are married and you and your spouse have a combined income of between $32,000 and $44,000, or you are single and your income is between $25,000 and $34,000, up to 50 percent of your Social Security benefits is subject to income tax.

The newly signed Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act added another level of benefit taxation. If you and your spouse have a combined income of $44,000 or more, or you are single and your income is $34,000 or more, 85 percent of your Social Security benefits is subject to income tax.

The new 85 percent level goes into effect Jan. 1, 1994 and will apply to benefits received in 1994. Therefore, if this tax change applies to you, it will not affect you until you pay your taxes in early 1995.

If you file an estimated tax return during the year, you may need to adjust your payments if you are subject to the 85 percent taxation level.

If you have questions about your Social Security benefits, contact any Social Security office or call Social Security's toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213. For information about this tax change or other tax matters, call the Internal Revenue Service, 1-800-829-3676.

Forestry facts

The income from timber sales on public lands in Mississippi set a new record in 1992. The $13.3 million figure far eclipsed the old record of $8.9 million set in 1990. In fact, the income from timber sales on public lands in the state continues to increase almost each year.

Most of this money is used to support the public schools. Thanks to good stewardship practices used by four public lands foresters, Mississippi school children benefit from this renewable resource.

Conference reveals future flower hopes

By Dr. Milo Burnham
Horticulturist
Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

The recent Southern Plant Conference in Chattanooga provided an opportunity to learn about new plants that places." He said the new hostas hold their color throughout the summer which is quite an improvement over the older varieties that faded in the summer heat.

The best blue hostas var-many new daylilies and said there are new, clear colors in the miniatures. A real show stopper was the variety Little Chipper, an excellent red.

Klehm gave credit to the many amateur breeders working on daylilies, who have developed so many excellent varieties. Pauline Henry is from Siloam, Ark. is one he noted who is credited with putting the eye into miniature daylilies. There are many popular varieties that carry the Siloam name.

Of the three plants, peonies are the most difficult to grow in Mississippi. Klehm said they do well in areas above Mississippi North Mississippi is a borderline growing area, so Central and South Mississippi are really questionable for peonies. Daylilies and hostas are adapted to all of Mississippi.

Klehm said peonies can be planted as single specimen plants or planted in mass. They make excellent cut flowers and the nursery sells a great many to the cut flower trade. Peony flowers can be dried for dry flower arrangements.

Peonies have many different types of flowers ranging from the singles with just an outer row of petals to the full doubles with many petals. In addition to being absolutely beautiful, many peony flowers are fragrant as well.

Klehm said breeding peonies is a long, slow process because the double dormant seeds require two years to germinate, and it takes up to seven years to bring the plants into bloom. The plants are evaluated for several years and then those selected to be named have to be increased so there are enough to sell.

Klehm suggested southern gardeners try planting the fleshy peony roots with the eyes just above ground level. He also suggested planting only the early blooming varieties and providing a little shade to the plants.

The pictures of all the new peony selections and especially the tree peonies made Southerners at the meeting a little jealous of our more northern friends who have an easier time with peonies.

Fall is the proper time for planting peonies. If you want to divide your peonies, get some from a friend, buy some locally or order from a catalog, now is the time to do it.

Daylilies are full sun plants. A lot of effort has been put into developing new miniature varieties. Miniature means the flowers are 3 inches or less in diameter and has nothing to do with plant size.

Klehm showed pictures of throughout the day.

Rocks standout in 'mud bowl'

Special to The Echo
BY JOSEPH GEX
St. Stanislaus' Rock-a-chaws remained winless on the season with a nail-biting 23-19 loss to the St. Martin Yellow Jackets Friday night.

When asked about his team's performance, interim head coach Larry Ramsey said, "Our guys played a good game. It's just that St. Martin was alot bigger and stronger than we were. They pushed us off the ball."

"We could not have played any better than we did tonight. We just came up on the short end of the stick."

The Rocks chose to kickoff to start the 'mud bowl' at Rock-A-Chaw stadium.

Stanislaus was on their way to a go-ahead score late in the fourth quarter—only to be denied the end zone because of a pass interception by St. Martin in a downpour.

The Yellow Jackets came out running with their scatbacks Terrell Bush and Donald Lewis. After minimal gains the Yellow Jackets punted the ball back to the Rocks.

The Rocks came out with two pounding runs by Jeep Mestayer and Brandon Benoit. However, the Rocks first drive was upended quickly with a fumble in the backfield and the Yellow Jackets recovering.

The Yellow Jackets did not get too far on their next drive due to a fumble deep in their own territory that was recovered by SSC's Allen Schaefer.

After a minimal gain by Benoit, Rock field general Nathan Middleton hit split end Vince Moran for a 12-yard touchdown to put the Rocks on the board first. The PAT by Allen Schaefer was good.

With 4:46 to go in the first quarter the score was 7-0.

The Yellow Jackets had a good return to the 43-yard line and did not waste any time scoring. The Yellow Jackets established their tough running game behind the thunderous running of Terrell Bush.

Bush sliced through the Rock defense with runs of 9-, 18- and 11-yards before bowling into the end zone with a 1-yard run. The PAT attempt by John Bamban was good.

With 48 seconds left in the first quarter the score was tied 7-7.

The Rocks came out throwing on their next drive.

Middleton had a pass batted down by Yellow Jacket defender Theo Cross. Middleton gave the ball to Benoit who had minimal gains for the Rocks.

The Rocks eventually had to punt to the Yellow Jackets.

St. Martin stuck to their ground attack behind the running of workhorse Donald Lewis. Lewis had gains of 9, 9, and 8 on this drive for the Yellow Jackets.

St. Martin QB Doug Hitt also called his own number for gains 13-, 6- and 12-yards before punching the ball in for a 1-yard score. The PAT attempt by Bamban was good.

With 5:13 to go in the second quarter the score was 14-7.

The Rocks did not waste any time getting back on the scoreboard. As a matter of fact, it only took them one play. It was the old hook and lateral play.

Rock QB Nathan Middleton connected with Vince Moran for 13-yards, who lateraled to Benoit coming around the end, who scampered 45-yards for the score. The only play that could have topped this one may have been the statue of liberty. The PAT attempt failed.

With 4:25 to go in the half the score was 14-13.

The Yellow Jackets put together a 12-play drive that ran the clock out. Hitt connected with Steve Reed for a gain of 12-yards.

The Yellow Jackets came back with a halfback pass from Chris Henry to Steve Reed for a gain of 27-yards. They went back to the running game behind Terrell Bush who pounded out short gains to the Rock 14 yard line.

John Bamban kicked a 31-yard field goal with 12 seconds left to make the score 17-13.

The first half of the 'mud bowl' had come to a close and the Rocks came out on offense to start the second half.

Behind the slashing of Benoit, who pounded out gains of 5-, 14-, 6- and 11-yards, the Rocks marched down the field. However, they were stalled by a couple of incomplete passes and had to punt away to St. Martin.

The Rocks got the ball back immediately when Leo Seal recovered a St. Martin fumble to start a drive to put the Rocks on top.

The Rocks lined up on offense and after two incomplete passes, they hit the big play. On a halfback pass from Benoit to Vince Moran, the Rocks moved to Yellow Jacket 3-yard line.

Benoit scored his second TD

of the night with a 3-yard scamper off-tackle. The PAT pass attempt was no good.

With 5:40 to go in the third quarter the score was 19-17.

St. Martin came right back with a score to take the lead as the third quarter was nearing an end.

The Jackets put together another 10-play drive that ate up the clock. Keeping the ball on the ground, they moved the ball behind Lewis, Bush, and Hitt.

With 10 seconds to go in the third quarter, Hitt connected with Steve Reed for a 25-yard scoring strike. The PAT pass attempt was no good leaving the score at 23-19.

The Rocks came out making the game a nail-bitter with an impressive drive.

With Benoit pounding out moderate gains, the Rocks drove to midfield. Middleton then connected with Moran for a gain of 10-yards.

Then the Rocks had a pitch-out to Benoit who pulled up and connected with Nathan Middleton, who had scooted out of the backfield for a gain of 10-yards.

Benoit, who had 117-yards rushing on the night, pounded out a few more yards.

Then, disaster struck. In the height of the drive, Middleton was intercepted by Yellow Jacket defensive back Chris Henry.

St. Martin ran the clock out by keeping the ball on the ground. The final 'mud bowl' score was 23-19.

The Rocks will end their season next Friday playing at Pearl River Central. Kickoff is at 7:30.

Special to the Echo
Bay High punter Raleigh Murphy kept the Long Beach Bearcats bottled up deep in their own territory all night.

The Tigers overcame a 14-point deficit to beat the Bearcats 15-14 on a rain and wind swept soggy field in Lance Lumpkin Stadium in Long Beach Friday night.

Murphy averaged 45-yards per punt all night. That kept the Bearcats inside their own 20 most of the night, and combined with the soggy conditions, gave Bay High the edge.

Coach Rocky Gaudin gave Murphy the credit. He said Murphy, a walk-on this year who served as a Bay High cheerleader last year, is probably the best punter in the district.

Bearcat Coach Joey D'Angelo also credited Murphy's punts as one reason for the Bearcat loss.

D'Angelo said the Bearcats just couldn't get field position because of Murphy's deep punts.

The weather was so bad that Homecoming halftime festivities were called off, and only the most diehard fans showed up for the game, sporting umbrellas and raincoats.

During some portions of the game the rain came down in sheets.

The Bearcats jumped out to a 14-point lead, but Bay High closed the gap by putting up eight points right before halftime, making it 14-8.

The Bearcats first score came with 4:22 left in the first period following an eight-play, 90-yard drive, capped by a two-yard plunge by Bearcat back Avery Taylor. Anthony Sacco's kick was good, giving Long Beach a 7-0 lead.

The highlight of the drive was a 61-yard pass play from quarterback Chris Reinike to Jason McGill that moved the ball down to the Tiger 29.

The Bearcats scored again with 8:25 left in the second period, following a seven-play, 45-yard drive, capped off by a 1-yard sneak by Reinike for the touchdown. Again, Sacco split the uprights, making it 14-0, Bearcats.

The Tiger score came with only 12 seconds remaining in the first half.

In the third period, Murphy's foot really went to work. He placed a punt on the Bearcat four, and after the Bearcats were unable to move the ball, they punted, giving the ball to the Tigers in good field position on the 50.

Then Bay High put together a five-play, 50-yard drive, capped by a 41-yard scamper by running back Xavier Lewis to tie the score.

Shawn Keener then kicked the extra point, the difference in the game. It was 15-14, Tigers.

The Bearcats tried to mount a comeback, but Murphy kept them way away from Tiger territory with punts to the Bearcat 10, and later the 20.

The Bearcats managed to mount a last-minute drive down to the Tiger 30, from where they tried to rush a field goal attempt with only four seconds left.

But a rushing Tiger defense blocked the attempt, giving the Tigers the win.

BY TRACI BONNEY
"Come into my parlor," said the spider to the fly.

Pearl River Central was the spider and Hancock was the fly Friday as the Blue Devils lured the Hawks to Carriere with the promise of a friendly football game, then proceeded to spin a web of ball-dominating playing that left Hancock trapped in a 33-0 shutout.

The Hawks had possession of the ball for only 36 plays of the 48 minutes of game time. The Blue Devils capitalized on a number of mishandled snaps and fumbles caused by a rain-slick football.

Hancock did make PRC work for their 30 points, though. The first touchdown didn't come until 8½ minutes into the first quarter, and the PAT kick following the score failed when the snap was fumbled.

The second quarter would have gone by without PRC adding to their score had the Blue Devils not forced the Hawks into a punting situation where Chris Sins was in his own end zone. The snap for the punt went over his head. He was able to recover the ball, but immediately found himself at the bottom of a pile of Blue Devils determined to get a 2-point safety for PRC.

HANCOCK HIGH

The third quarter opened with the score 8-0 and the Hawks kicking to the Blue Devils. The two teams exchanged possession several times, with neither able to gain any real yardage until the final seconds of the quarter.

With less than 26 seconds on the third quarter clock, Blue Devil quarterback Raphael Tillman went right on a keeper and ran the ball in from the 35 for a TD. The subsequent 2-point conversion attempt succeeded, and the score stood at 16-0 with five seconds left in the quarter.

Less than four minutes into the fourth quarter, the Devils attacked again, this time with a run up the middle by Danielle Jefferson for a 4-yard score. A conversion pass attempt was blocked by the Hawks, leaving the score at 22-0 with 8:26 left in the game.

Terrance Smith, one of PRC's standouts in Friday's game, scored the Blue Devils' final touchdown on his third attempt to push the ball over the 1-yard line. The PAT conversion was good for 2, sealing the score at 30-0 with 4:56 to go.

Hawk Marlon Allen, a powerhouse on both offense and defense Friday, carried the ball in the fourth quarter for what would have been Hancock's only first down of the game, had the ball not been fumbled and recovered by PRC. It was not clear during the play whether Allen lost his grip on the pigskin or whether it was stripped from his hands.

The game was hard-fought by both teams, who had to overcome constant heavy rain and the muddy conditions it created. The rain was so steady and so heavy that referees resorted to covering the ball between plays and bringing in a dry football every few minutes.

Following the game, Hancock made a beeline for the locker room, not even staying on the field for the usual post-game pep talk and evaluation.

The loss takes Hancock to 4-6 for the season.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

Pumpkin can be used as substitute for squash

An old Irish folk tale holds that a stingy Irishman named Jack was not allowed to enter Heaven, and later was then condemned to walk the earth forever with a lighted lantern!

Especially on All Hallow's Eve or the "eve of the holy one's day" - All Saints' Day! Long ago, the Irish and the Scots carved Jack-O-Lanterns from turnips or potatoes and set lighted candles in them on this night; but, when they left the Old World for the New, they brought along with them their Hallowe'en customs-but not the turnips!

They soon found the pumpkin a good substitute, with the additional bonus of several bowls of fresh pumpkin meat, depending, of course, upon the size of the pumpkin.

So, after the Hallowe'en fun is over, what are you going to do with the Jack-O-Lantern? Well, of course there's the traditional pumpkin pie or pumpkin soup, but don't stop there.

Ever since Colonial Days, when pumpkin was a morning, noon and often nighttime staple, thrifty housewives have been devising ways of using this colorful member of the squash family.

Pumpkin may be substituted for just about any winter squash in recipes; whether steamed or baked, in casseroles or fried, and so on. It's a delicious addition to the stewpot; and don't forget to save the seeds for toasting!

A tasty way to use up that pumpkin is:

PORK 'N' PUMPKIN BAKE

2 lbs. Pork Steaks or Chops, trimmed and cubed (3/4-inch cubes)

2 Tblsp. prepared mustard
1/4 cup brown sugar
2 Tblsp. flour

2 lbs. pumpkin, peeled and cut into 1-inch cubes, making 4 cups

1 cup, or a bit more, of pork or ham stock (or fry off a bit of ham or bacon, and add water to make a cup)

Dash (1/4 tsp) thyme
Dash of pepper, salt optional;
I use a splash of hot pepper sauce instead

Dip the pork pieces in the mustard to coat them a bit, then coat with a mixture of the brown sugar and flour. Brown the pork cubes in a little butter and oil, or cooking spray, then transfer to a casserole dish.

Pour the fat from the skillet. Meanwhile, simmer the pumpkin cubes briefly, say for 3 or 4 minutes, then drain well and add to the pork pieces. Add the stock or seasoned water, as the case may be, along with the seasonings, to the skillet and bring to a boil.

Pour the liquid over the pork and pumpkin combination in the casserole, cover and bake in a 350-degree oven for 30 minutes, stirring once or twice as it cooks.

Remove the cover, stir a bit, and bake for 29 minutes or so longer, basting from time to time, until the pork is tender and the sauce quite thick. (6 servings). And, if you don't have any leftover Hallowe'en goblin, substitute yellow squash cubes.

Old fashioned apple pie is favorite

Country Apple Pie

10-inch Two-Crust Pie Pastry (below)

1 cup sugar
1/4 cup Gold Medal all-purpose flour

3/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon

1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg

Dash of salt

8 cups thinly sliced pared tart cooking apples (about 8 medium)

4 tablespoons whipping (heavy) cream

Heat oven to 425 degrees.

Prepare pastry. Mix sugar, flour, cinnamon, nutmeg and salt. Stir in apples.

Turn into pastry-lined deep-dish pie plate, 9x1 1/2 inches, or regular pie plate, 10x1 1/2 inches. Drizzle with 3 tablespoons of the whipping cream.

Cover with top crust that has slits cut in it; seal and flute. Brush with remaining whipping cream. Top with leaf or other shapes cut from pastry scraps if desired.

Bake 40 to 45 minutes or until crust is brown and juice begins to bubble through slits in crust. 8 servings.

10-inch Two-Crust Pie Pastry

1 cup shortening or 3/4 cup plus 2 tablespoons lard

2 2/3 cups Gold Medal all-purpose flour

1 teaspoon salt

7 to 8 tablespoons cold water

Cut shortening into flour and salt until particles are size of small peas. Sprinkle in water, 1 tablespoon at a time, tossing with fork until all flour is moistened and pastry almost cleans side of bowl (1 to 2 teaspoons water can be added if necessary).

Gather pastry into a ball. Divide pastry in half; shape into 2 flattened rounds on lightly floured cloth-covered surface. Roll pastry following step-by-step directions included in Technique of the Month.

Hints for a perfect crust

Good pie crust only starts with the recipe. The rest of the secret is in rolling it out and placing it in the pie plate. Start with a rolling pin and a lightly floured cloth-covered surface. Cloth helps to keep the pastry from sticking.

—Flatten ball of dough slightly with your hands. Then, roll pastry from center to the outside edge in all directions. Give pastry a quarter turn, occasionally and lift the rolling pin as it approaches the edge for even pressure.

—Roll pastry about 2 inches larger than inverted pie plate and about 1/4" thick. Take care not to roll too thin.

—To transfer pastry, fold bottom pastry into fourths. Unfold gently in pie plate with point in center, taking care not to stretch pastry.

—Fill bottom pastry, as desired. Repeat with top pastry, cutting slits in top before folding into fourths. Tuck the 1-inch overhang under edge of bottom crust. Pinch top and bottom edges together to seal pastry.

—While fluting decorative edge, press a 2 to 3-inch strip of aluminum foil over fluted edge so that crust doesn't brown too much. Take away foil 15 minutes before end of baking time.

Final touches

You can add your own decorative touch to a 2-crust pie. In place of slits in crust, top with leaf or other shapes cut from pastry scraps. Overlap small cutouts of pastry for a designed edge.

Blue Jeans Garden Club

Members of the Blue Jeans Garden Club met Thursday, Oct. 21 for the annual October meeting and social.

Phil Lagasse read the opening prayer, followed by reading of September's minutes. Secretary Claire Conway read a letter to the Blue Jeans that she received from club member Mary Danna who is on vacation overseas.

President Mayola Rotherham appointed three past presidents to serve on the nominating committee for election of officers during the November meeting. Those appointed were Virginia Thomas, chairman; Betty Klein and Jennie Ortis.

For the benefit of new members, Betty Klein, awards chairman, explained the Blue Jeans point system governing the Thanksgiving and Christmas arrangement competition.

Beverly Coogan, Christmas party and luncheon chairman, promised to present her report at the November meeting.

Members voted unanimously to send a donation to the drug awareness program, as well as to the Hancock County Food Pantry and other pet projects of the club.

Hostesses included Mayola Rotherham, Phil Lagasse, June Bonck, Gloria Norton, Melba Felder and Nola King.

Winners of the cutest seasonal door prizes were won by June Bonck, Mayola Rotherham, Mattie Garcia and Margaret Heitzman.

Half and Half winner was Dot Feaheny.

Next meeting will be Nov. 18 in Clermont Harbor.

Diamondhead Garden Club

At the October meeting at the Community Center, members of the Diamondhead Garden Club named Mrs. Clarence Evans as their newest life member. Evans is also a state life member.

Guests introduced at the meeting were DeLores Glazier, Peggy Clemons, Sandra Sibley and Lois Manuel.

Mrs. R. B. Boatright showed her "rabbit's foot" plant and told how she cared for it. The group was interested in the fact that she uses ice cubes to water her inside plants so that the water goes into each plant very slowly as the ice melts. It keeps the water from running out of the bottom of the pot instead of thoroughly watering the plant.

A coming event that is excitedly anticipated by many members is a trip on Nov. 5 to the Honey Island Swamp.

Mrs. Jan D. Brameyer talked to the group about bromeliads, including the Jonecalolia and the Inonantha, which she brought with her for demonstration. Following her talk, small bromeliads and driftwood were given to members to that each member could arrange her bromeliad and the driftwood to take home and grow.

Hostesses were Mrs. Luis Alvarez and Mrs. Dick Meyer.

20th Star DAR

The October meeting of the 20th Star Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was highlighted with a program by the members called "Souvenirs From the Voyage of Life."

Members were asked to bring in things that reflected a part of their past history. Laurie Crouson had several categories of stages of life in which members displayed and discussed mementos.

Many more items were also displayed, such as brochures and sewing kits, etc. The members had such a good response to this program that it was determined to do it again in the future.

New member, Mrs. Jerry Miller, was welcomed. Hostesses were Dixie Brock, Rowena McCarty and Sallye Trussell. The next meeting will be Nov. 13 in the home of Virginia Nunnally.

Hancock County
Lions Club

EPA grant funds research in Gulf

The Gulf Coast Research Laboratory in Ocean Springs has received $445,059 from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency for ongoing participation in EMAP, an environmental monitoring and assessment program in the eastern Gulf of Mexico.

The laboratory will continue to collect, process, transfer, identify, specify and quantify samples from 70 stations from Anclote Key, Fla to Bay St. Louis. This area encompasses eight large estuarine systems, 10 smaller estuarine systems and 10 small tidal rivers.

GCRL will provide environmental sampling and evaluation of benthic (bottom-dwelling) communities involving water quality measurements, sediment collections, organism evaluation and fish and bivalve sample accumulation.

The project involves collaborative research among several areas of expertise at the laboratory. Dr. William W. Walker, GCRL assistant director for research and senior toxicologist, will serve as project officer.

Biologist W. David Burke will serve as field work team leader. Other project supervisors are Dr. Richard W. Heard and Dr. Chet Rakocinski, invertebrate zoologists; Dr. Ervin G. Otvos, geologist; and Dr. Thomas F. Lytle, analytical chemist.

Mentoring volunteers sought in Pass Christian

The Pass Christian Friends of the Library in cooperation with the Pass Christian public schools has inaugurated a program called Volunteer Education Enrichment Program.

All members of the community are invited and encouraged to volunteer their time for this multi-faceted program which consists of one on one tutoring, mentoring, assisting in the classroom or making presentations to classes.

Volunteers are needed also to help children with research in the public library after school. To explain more about the program and for volunteer sign-up, a meeting will be held at the Pass Christian public library on Hiern Avenue on Wednesday, November 3 at 7 p.m.

If you cannot attend the meeting but are interested in participating, you may pick up a sign-up sheet at the library or call Stephen Jassby, president of the Friends at 452-3670, or Helen Caire, coordinator of program at 452-2390.

Waveland Elem. teachers attend several workshops

Since the start of school, Waveland Elementary teachers have been attending workshops to bring new and innovative teaching techniques into the classroom.

Michele McDougal and Elaine LaFontaine attended the NASA teacher education workshop on mathematics. This workshop offered many teaching tips on using "hands on" materials in the classroom.

Belinda Pearce and Betsy Jacobs attended the NASA teacher education workshop on cooperative learning. Working together to solve problems was the theme of this workshop.

The first and second grade teachers were involved in Part One of a two-part early literacy workshop. Presenters from Jackson Public School District discussed the value of reading to children in the classroom and in the home.

Part Two of the workshop will focus on strategies for teaching reading skills.

Donna Torres, Cindy Collier, Ollie McKenna and Sharon Sutherlin attended the Mississippi Association of Children Under Six (MACUS) Conference in Jackson. This conference keeps preschool and kindergarten teachers abreast of the latest research and programs available.

Recently, Portia Stewart, Audrey Malone, Cindy Collier, Paula Dauro and Debbie Cox attended a Saturday workshop at Thames Elementary in Hattiesburg entitled, "The World of Learning."

This workshop offered information on using children's literature in addition to textbooks to teach reading skills, writing skills, and math skills. The teachers came back with many new ideas to use in their classrooms.

At this workshop, Stewart won a 9'x12' area rug of the United States to use as a teaching tool in her classroom.

Reach to Recovery

ACS program assists breast cancer patients

Reach to Recovery is a rehabilitation program of the American Cancer Society in which specially trained volunteers visit breast cancer patients to help them meet the physical, emotional and cosmetic needs related to their disease and/or its treatment.

Reach to Recovery volunteers are breast cancer survivors who have a desire to help other women through this time of need.

After a physician has authorized a visit, an appointment is made with the patient.

The volunteer visitor brings a kit containing a temporary breast form, manuals of information and appropriate literature for family members and friends.

Reach to Recovery volunteer Daisy Mullen says "Reach to Recovery is a very important program because it involves people who have been in the same situation. When breast cancer patients see that we have adjusted and survived the disease, it gives them hope of having life after breast cancer."

If you or someone you know is dealing with breast cancer, or if you are interested in the Reach to Recovery program or volunteer opportunities involved in the program, call the American Cancer Society toll-free at 1-800-ACS-2345.

Elks offer grants for voc./technical courses

Students planning to pursue a vocational/technical course in a school or college leading to a terminal associate degree, certificate or diploma, but less than a baccalaureate degree, are eligible to apply for $2,000 grants offered by the Elks National Foundation.

The Elks National Foundation trustees have set aside $788,000 for the grants for the 1994-95-1995-96 academic years. Each grant is for $1,000 for each of the two academic years.

A total of 394 grants will be awarded, with at least one per state, and the areas of Guam and Puerto Rico. Additional grants are allotted according to Elks' donations within each state. Mississippi will be receiving two grants. The Bay-Waveland Lodge was successful in receiving a grant last year for one of their nominees.

Although graduating high school seniors are eligible to apply, older students who desire training or re-training are encouraged to apply for these grants. A high school diploma or GED is not required.

Applications are available from financial aid officers at community and technical colleges and at local lodges of the BPOE Elks of the USA. Application deadline is Nov. 19, 1993.

Applications must be submitted to the student's local BPOE Elks Lodge. Each state's applications will be judged by a panel of judges selected by the Association of Community College Trustees (ACCT).

For more information, contact a Lodge member or Gene Woodrick at 466-3929 or 452-3037.

RSVP to take Thanksgiving Food Basket applications

Applications will be taken at the Gulf Coast Community Action's office for Thanksgiving Food Baskets.

The applications will be taken by Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) members Nov. 1 thru 12, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, 9 a.m. to 12 p.m.

Gulf Coast Community Action is located at 403 Blaize St., Bay St. Louis.

TRICKS AND TREATS

Halloween Safety Tips

Protect your children from harm on Halloween, by following these simple, common sense safety guidelines:

- 1 An adult should accompany each group of trick-or-treaters.
- 2 Attach bright reflective patches to all costumes to be more visible to drivers.
- 3 Accept candy only from neighbors you know.
- 4 Never allow your children to eat any unwrapped candy or fruit.
- 5 Make sure the costumes allow for free movement and breathing.

Enjoy this wonderful time with your children!
